OCDC ANNOUNCES FIRST CLEET GRADUATE

OKLAHOMA CITY (May 18, 2022) – The Oklahoma County Detention Center (OCDC) is proud to announce Officer Chelsie Anderson has graduated from the Council on Law Enforcement and Education Training (CLEET).

The OCDC, also known as the Oklahoma County Jail, has many CLEET-certified staff, but Anderson is the first officer to graduate exclusively through the OCDC. She is now a certified law enforcement officer through the state of Oklahoma.

“We are extremely proud of Officer Anderson,” said Greg Williams, CEO of the OCDC. “We are always looking at training opportunities for our staff to increase the overall safety and security of the facility. She will be a wonderful addition to our existing CLEET-certified staff.”

OCDC will send two more cadets through CLEET training, beginning in August.
